

Kids CAN Taste the Difference!

Check the label to be sure it's U.S. grown.

Fresh Bartlett pears harvested in the Pacific Northwest are peeled and cut, then poached right in the can, bursting with the flavor and texture you expect from a perfectly ripe pear.

Ready to use, versatile canned pears are the perfect pick for adding fruit to your menu and creating dishes kids love, from pizza and smoothies to salads and sandwiches.

Grown by American farmers and packed using the highest quality standards, Pacific Northwest canned Bartlett pears are available from your distributor or the USDA commodity program.

Taste and convenience — it's in the CAN.
